Summer Food Distribution Management by APPX Software

appx Foods

Manage meals and snacks the easy way

Managing the distribution of meals and snacks during the summer months can be a challenge. Distribution sites change, meals can be misdirected, state meal distribution reporting and auditing can be time consuming. APPX Foods was designed to address those problems at low cost and with an easy to use interface and adaptable design that will simplify your Summer Foods distribution and reporting. APPX Foods was designed with input from those with the responsibility of getting the process done. You will find that the system is easy to access, and easy to query. There are a number of reports that let you analyze how the meals are distributed, by whom, and within state guidelines. Multiple users may access the system simultaneously to improve productivity.

Appx Foods Application Subscription

APPX Foods is available as a hosted application on Amazon Web Services. By using APPX Foods as a web application, you gain the benefits of high availability, reliability, automatic backups, redundancy, easy access from anywhere, with no need for capital investment. APPX Foods allows you to enter, maintain, query, and report on your data as needed, at any time of the day or night. Your IT staff does not need to spend time and resources to maintain the APPX Foods application. Budgeting is simplified. Your data is kept separate and secure from other APPX Foods users automatically, for your peace of mind. By using Foods as a subscription service, you get all the benefits, with no extra costs to get started. Setup is simplified when you subscribe to APPX Foods. You attend a training session via WebEx, and the next day your account is setup and you can start using the application to get your work done!

APPX Foods is available as a subscription starting at $5,900 per year for up to 50 distribution sites. Additional blocks of 50 sites are $2,400 per year. Initial training and setup are available for $495. Basic support is included. Other options are available. Call us for more information.
